

Contents

Periods, Dynasties and Important Persons		vi
Foreword		viii
Preface		xi
Prologue		1
(A) China prior to the time of the eight thinkers		1
(B) China in the time of the eight thinkers		8
(C) Practical responses from the authorities to the ideas of the thinkers		13
Lun-yu 論語	Part 1 23	Part 2 40
Analects of Kong Qiu 孔丘 or Kongzi 孔子 (Confucius)
(A) The need for social authority and norms	23	42
(B) The authorities	23	42
(C) Norms	26	46
(D) Implementation of norms	35	54
(E) Administration of justice	35	56
(F) Social relationships	36	58
(G) Relationship between the individual and the state	37	60
(H) The ideal state	—	62
Lao-zi 老子	Part 1 67	Part 2 78
Sayings attributed to Li Er 李耳 or Laozi 老子
(A) The Way	67	80
(B) The use of the Way	69	81
(C) The fall of the Way	70	82
(D) The Sage	70	84
(E) The re-establishment of the Way	71	85
(F) Social relationships in Laozi's "small state"	76	91
(G) Difficulties Laozi and his Sage encountered	76	93

(F) Social relationships	277	296
(G) Ideal government	277	296
Xun-zi 荀子	Part 1 301	Part 2 327
Work by Xun Kuang 荀况 or Xunzi 荀子
(A) Man, Heaven and Fate	301	329
(B) Human nature	303	331
(C) Need of social organisation	306	333
(D) Need of government authority	306	334
(E) Need of social norms	306	335
(F) To learn the norms	307	335
(G) To make a better world	311	338
(H) Social relationships	323	348
Han-fei-zi 韓非子	Part 1 354	Part 2 412
Work by Han Fei 韓非
(A) Symptoms of disorder	354	413
(B) Causes of disorder	364	417
(C) Erroneous responses	368	420
(D) Correct responses	374	424
(E) Theory of law	388	433
(F) Application and enforcement of law	394	440
(G) The well-governed state	403	446
(H) The proper social relationship	403	447
(I) Difficulties	405	450
Epilogue		459
(A) The thinkers interacting with one another		459
(B) Further developments		464
(C) Influences on the legal system		473
(D) Recent situation		509
(E) Summary, evaluation and suggestions		510
Notes		521
Bibliography		534
Index		538

Mo-zi 墨子	Part 1 96	Part 2 120
Words and deeds of Mo Di 墨翟 or Mozi 墨子
(A) The primitive world	96	122
(B) Social authorities	96	123
(C) Social norms	102	126
(D) Enforcement of social norms	112	133
(E) Social relationships	118	137
(F) Relationship between the individual and the authorities	—	137
Zhuang-zi 莊子	Part 1 141	Part 2 172
Words and deeds of Zhuang Zhou 莊周 or Zhuangzi 莊子
(A) Universal relativism and individual uniqueness	141	174
(B) The inborn nature, its importance and protection	144	175
(C) The inborn nature and the Way	147	176
(D) The world of "Perfect Virtue"	148	176
(E) The fall of the Way	149	177
(F) The rule makers	152	178
(G) Man-made rules	153	179
(H) Enforcement of man-made rules	157	181
(I) The way to clear up chaos and return to order	160	182
(J) Social relationships	164	185
(K) Human life and objective	169	188
Meng-zi 孟子	Part 1 192	Part 2 221
Work by Meng Ke 孟軻 or Mengzi 孟子 (Mencius)
(A) Criticism of Yang Zhu and Mozi	192	222
(B) Need of social organisation, norms and authority	193	223
(C) Good and bad governments	194	224
(D) Critical problems and Mencius's solutions	197	226
(E) Re-establishment of good government: possibility and timing	198	228
(F) Conceptual bases of good government and norms	199	228
(G) Members of society	202	231
(H) Social relationships	215	242
Shang-jun-shu 商君書	Part 1 250	Part 2 278
Work attributed to Gongsun Yang 公孫鞅 or Shangjun 商君 (Lord Shang)
(A) Social evolution and need of government authority	250	279
(B) Prerequisites of government authority	251	280
(C) Responsibilities of government authority	252	281
(D) Law	267	289
(E) Effects of law being properly made and enforced	275	295