CONTENTS

List of figures and tables xi
Preface xiii
Foreword xiv
Walkthrough of textbook features xv

01 Organisations 1

Why organisations exist 1
Public sector organisations 2
Private sector organisations 4
Types of organisation 5
Organisation typologies: mechanistic versus organic organisations 8
Sizes of organisation 9
The purposes of organisations 10
Strategic planning techniques 11
Organisational structures 15
Reflections on organisation design 22
Note 26

02 Aspects of organisational culture 29

What is culture? 29
Definitions of culture (societal context) 30
Organisational culture 32
Organisational values 39
Emotional culture 39
Identifying organisational cultures 41
Public sector culture 44
Induction – the socialisation of a new member into the organisation 49
Changing organisation culture 50

03 Human resource management (HRM) 55

What exactly is human resource management (HRM)? 55
Strategic HRM 63
Achieving a competitive advantage 64
Structuring human resources in the organisation 69
HR and added value 70
The skills and competencies of the HR professional 72
Restructuring the organisation 72
Customer care – a research-based approach 74
Employee voice 78
Notes 80

04 The role of the HR practitioner 83

Background to the role of HR 83
The range and scope of HR activities 86
Business partnering 89
Aligning HR to corporate strategy 89
Corporate social responsibility (CSR) 90
Professionalism and ethics 91
The CIPD Profession Map 93
The future role of HR 95

05 Workforce planning 101

Planning period 105
Workforce planning as a competence-centred function 106
Traditional approaches to workforce planning 106
Understanding workforce characteristics 121

06 Recruitment 129

The importance of recruitment 129
Definitions 130
The context of recruitment 130
Internal and external labour markets 131
Factors affecting success 132
Skill shortages 133
Employer branding 134
Recruitment processes 136
Recruitment difficulties 147

07 Selection 151

The importance of selection 151
The search for 'talent' 151
The selection process 154
Selection methods 157
Organising the selection process 162
Interviewing 164
Making the decision 171

08 Induction and retention 179

The importance of induction 179
Employer branding 180
The purpose of induction 181
Indications of a successful induction process 185
Approaches to induction 187
Buddy systems and mentors 188

Induction content 189
Departmental induction 192
Other times when induction may be needed 193
Inducting minority groups or those with special needs 193
Follow-up 194
Retention, work and why people work 194
Recording and analysing information 195
Retaining staff 196
Managing contractor organisations 199

09 Learning and development 203

Individual learning 203
Terminology 204
Training and human resource development 204
Self development 205
Human capital 206
Talent management 207
Knowledge management 208
Why is learning so important? Who benefits from learning? 209
The principles of learning 210
Early theories of learning 216
More recent learning theories 218
Continuing professional development (CPD) 220
Transfer of learning 221
Choosing a career 221

10 Learning and development – practical aspects 225

Organisational learning 225
The strategic importance of learning and the development of talent 226
Aligning learning with organisational need 227
L&D (or training) policy 227
National skills initiatives 228
Systematic training 229
The systematic training cycle 230
E-learning 248
The future of learning 251

11 Performance management 255

Background 255
What is performance? 256
Factors influencing performance 257
Motivation 258
Scientific management 259
Hawthorne Studies 260
Theories of motivation 261

Content theories of motivation 261
Process theories of motivation 266
Summary of motivation theories 270
Performance management 271
Background: performance management 272
Performance appraisal 273
360-degree feedback 279
Criticisms of appraisal systems 280
Performance management through development 280

12 Employee reward 287

Defining reward 287
HRM and reward 288
Non-financial rewards 290
Employee benefits and HR management 291
Rewards with financial value 293
Reward and motivation 294
Determining reward strategy 295
Reward systems 298
The basis for performance-related pay 301
Team reward schemes 302
Total reward 304
Job evaluation (JE) 305
Contemporary issues 309
Equal pay reviews and gender pay gap reporting 310
Note 313

13 The employment relationship 317

Background 317
Formal and informal contracts 318
Perspectives on the employment relationship 320
Parties in the employment relationship 323
Trade unions 325
The role of trade unions 327
The internal justice system 328
Labour disputes 328
Upholding employee rights 329
Trade union representatives 330
Unionlearn 330
Acas 331
Central Arbitration Committee (CAC) 333
Summary of employee relations 333
Absence management 333
Managing and controlling absence 334
Measuring and monitoring absence 335
Reasons for absence 336

Strategies for managing absence 337
Stress and mental heath 338
CIPD view 338

14 Health, safety, well-being and work–life balance 343

Health and safety 343
What organisations must do 344
Managing health and safety in the workplace 349
Employee well-being 358
Work–life balance (WLB) 365
Improving work–life balance (WLB) 366
Note 369

15 Diversity 373

Background 373
Demographic change 375
Prejudice 376
Why be concerned with equality and diversity? 378
Equality legislation 378
Discrimination 381
Employment tribunals (ETs) 382
Types of discrimination 383
Positive action 387
Discrimination on the grounds of the nine protected characteristics of the Equality Act 388
Bullying and harassment 394
Equality bodies 398

16 Employment law 403

The employment relationship and legislation 403
Differences between contracts 404
The components of a contract 405
Contracts of employment 407
Understanding employment rights 411
Important employment legislation 414
Grievance procedures 416
Workplace disciplinary rules 418
Conflict management in the workplace 423
Health-and-safety legislation 424
General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR) and Freedom of Information Act (2000) 424
Notes 429

17 Ending the employment relationship 433

Introduction 433
Termination of the contract of employment 434
Employee status 435
Dismissal 436
Redundancy 440
Retirement 448

18 Change management 451

Triggers (drivers) for change 451
The need for change 452
Change factors 452
Evolution and revolution 452
Typologies of change – soft and hard change problems 456
Resistance to change 457
Changing organisation culture 460
Organisation development (OD) 464
Lewin's three-phase model of change 465
The organisational development (OD) model of change 468
The role of the change consultant 470
The emergent approach to change 471
The role of HR in supporting the management of change 472

19 Handling and managing information 477

Information collection 478
Types of information 478
Data requirements for human resource management 480
Data analytics 480
Understanding e-human resource management systems 487
The case for adopting e-HRM systems 487
Choosing the 'right' HR system 490
Security and HR management systems 492
Ownership of digital information 493
Big data 494
HR analytics 495
Gamification 498
Using information to best advantage 501
Presenting information and making a point 507
More statistics – standard deviation 509
The law in relation to the holding, processing and accessing of information 509
Note 510

Index 514