Much as it takes a village to raise a child (a saying of obscure origin), it takes an “academical village” (Thomas Jefferson’s phrase) to raise a book—at least a book such as this that arises from, and whose purpose is to serve, a national (and now international) academic community. This book is dedicated to all those members of our academical village who in numerous and varied ways have helped raise this book from its origins through this fifth edition, and to all those members who will face the great challenges of law and policy that will shape higher education’s future
