

Contents

Acknowledgements	xi
1 Introduction	1
1.1 Overview and Objectives	1
1.2 Quick Start Guide to Banking Concepts and Regulation	4
2 The Global Financial Crisis	7
2.1 From Deregulation to dotcom Crash	7
2.2 The Seeds of a Crisis	9
2.3 “Why Didn’t Anyone See This Coming?”	14
2.4 The Beginnings of a Crisis	17
2.5 The Crisis Intensifies	20
2.6 Meltdown: The Lehman Bankruptcy	21
2.7 Massive Intervention Internationally	23
2.8 Sovereign Crises	29
2.9 Aftershocks and Skeletons in the Cupboard	32
2.10 Who is to Blame?	34
3 Methodologies and Foundations	37
3.1 How do Banks Make or Lose Money?	37
3.2 What’s a Bank Worth? Key Issues in Accounting for Banks	41
3.3 What is Risk?	47
3.4 What is an RWA?	55
3.5 What is Capital?	61
3.5.1 Regulatory Capital	63
3.5.2 Hybrid Capital	65
3.5.3 Economic Capital and Ratings Capital	66
3.5.4 Cost-of-Capital and Return-on-Capital	66
3.5.5 Capital in a Stress Scenario	67
3.5.6 Bail-in Capital	67

3.6	What are Liquidity and Funding?	68
3.6.1	Concepts	68
3.6.2	Liquidity Management and Liquidity Risk	69
3.6.3	Interbank Funding, the Money Markets and Central Bank Support	72
3.6.4	Deposit Guarantee Schemes	76
3.6.5	Securitisation	77
3.6.6	Covered Bonds	81
3.6.7	Liquidity Stress Tests	83
3.7	What is a Derivative?	84
3.8	Mark-to-Market and Procyclicality	90
3.9	Role of Regulation, Supervision and Support	96
3.10	Ratings Agencies and Credit Ratings	101
3.10.1	Moody's Bank Methodology	104
3.10.2	S&P's Bank Methodology	104
3.10.3	Structured Finance Ratings	105
3.10.4	Use of Ratings in Regulation and Investment Policy	107
3.11	Analysts, Investors and Financial Communication	109
4	Regulation of the Banking Industry	113
4.1	The Relevance of Bank Regulation and Supervision	113
4.2	Regulation and Supervision of the Banking Industry Prior to "Basel I"	113
4.3	The Basel Capital Accord aka "Basel I"	117
4.3.1	Definition of Capital	118
4.3.2	Deductions Regime	119
4.3.3	Risk-Weighting Approach	120
4.3.4	Ratio of Capital to Risk Weighted Assets	121
4.3.5	Modifications to Basel I	121
4.3.6	Impact of Basel I	122
4.4	Basel II	122
4.4.1	Objectives of Basel II	123
4.4.2	The Three Pillar Approach	123
4.4.3	Pillar 1: Minimum Capital Requirements	124
4.4.4	Pillar 2: Supervisory Review	130
4.4.5	Pillar 3: Market Discipline	132
4.4.6	Capital Calibration	133
4.4.7	Capital Supply and Mix	135
4.4.8	Implementation of Basel II	136
4.4.9	Critique of Basel II	137
4.5	Basel III	141
4.5.1	Definition of Capital	142
4.5.2	Deductions	143
4.5.3	Risk-Weighted Assets	145
4.5.4	Minimum Capital Levels	147
4.5.5	Leverage Ratio	150
4.5.6	Liquidity and Funding	152
4.5.7	Derivatives Risk Management	155
4.5.8	Implementation and Transition	156

4.5.9 National Versions of Basel III	157
4.5.10 Major Achievements of Basel III: Top Five	158
4.5.11 Major Issues with Basel III: Top Five	161
4.6 Resolution Regimes	163
4.7 Other Current Regulatory Workstreams	171
5 Case Studies	175
5.1 RBS	176
5.2 Dexia	179
5.3 HBOS	184
5.4 HSBC	189
5.5 Bear Stearns	192
5.6 Merrill Lynch	196
5.7 AIG	200
5.8 JP Morgan	207
5.9 Barclays	213
5.10 UBS	217
5.11 Northern Rock	221
5.12 Bankia-BFA	223
5.13 Australia	228
5.14 Canada	233
5.15 Summary of “Lessons Learned” from the Case Studies	236
6 Objectives and Design Principles	239
6.1 Free Market versus State Capitalism	240
6.2 Are There Alternatives to Banks?	242
6.3 Benefits and Limitations of Finance	250
6.4 How Much Risk Can We Tolerate?	251
6.5 The Role of Regulation and Supervision	254
6.6 The Role of “the Market”	256
6.7 Conclusions: Proposed Objectives and Design Criteria	258
7 A Blueprint for “Basel IV”	259
7.1 Risk Management	261
7.1.1 Valuation Approaches	261
7.1.2 Role of Internal Risk Assessments	263
7.1.3 Putting Risk Management at the Heart of Banking	263
7.1.4 Role of Risk Benchmarks	266
7.1.5 Assets Don’t Have Risk, Institutions Do	266
7.1.6 Risk Disclosure	267
7.2 The Guardian Angel	269
7.2.1 Key Aspects of the Guardian Angel Model	271
7.2.2 Creating the Supervisory Elite	273
7.2.3 Paying the Bill	273
7.2.4 Cross-Border Issues	274
7.2.5 The Role of Macroprudential Regulation	275

7.3	Human Capital	275
7.3.1	Competence and Incompetence in the Banking Industry	276
7.3.2	Compensation	279
7.3.3	Culture	285
7.4	Governance	287
7.4.1	How Does Governance Work in Theory?	287
7.4.2	Improving Governance of Banks	289
7.4.3	The Centurion Approach	290
7.5	Capital	291
7.5.1	The Role of “Capital”	292
7.5.2	Principles-Based Solvency Regulations	292
7.5.3	Need for Capital	293
7.5.4	Supply of Capital	293
7.5.5	Role of “Hybrid” Capital	294
7.5.6	Life without Capital Ratios	296
7.5.7	Minimum Capital Standards	297
7.5.8	Disclosure of Capital Assessment	298
7.5.9	Resolution of Failed Banks	298
7.6	Liquidity and Funding	299
7.6.1	Liquidity	299
7.6.2	Funding	301
7.7	The “Pillar 2” Mindset	303
7.7.1	Putting Scenario Assessment at the Heart of the Risk Management Process	304
7.7.2	Wargaming Instead of Stress Testing	304
7.7.3	Communication of Pillar 2 Findings	308
7.7.4	The Modular Approach to Risk Assessment	309
7.7.5	Risk Appetite and Reverse Stress Testing	310
7.8	Glasnost: Market Discipline and “Pillar 3”	311
7.9	Industry Structure	313
7.9.1	Different Types of Banks	313
7.9.2	Too Big to Fail	319
7.9.3	Cross-Border Issues	321
7.9.4	Ownership Structures	322
8	Challenges	327
8.1	Industry Entrenchment	327
8.2	Human Behaviour	329
8.3	Performance Management for Good Risk Management	332
8.4	Timing	333
8.5	A Positive Challenge: Technological and Social Progress	333
9	What Next? A Call to Arms	335
	Glossary & Jargon Lookup	339
	Disclaimer Regarding Excerpts from S&P Materials	349
	Index	351