Security for the debtor's obligation and security for third-party indebtedness	1-15
Security for an obligation owed to someone other than the security taker	1-16
What Constitutes a Security Interest
The nature of a security interest	1-17
Fixed security interest is a right given by a debtor to his creditor in an asset	1-18

Security is by way of grant of an interest in the debtor's asset, not by way of reservation of title to the creditor	1-31
The right is given for the purpose of securing an obligation and in security only, not by way of outright transfer	1-36
A fixed security interest implies a restriction on the debtor's dominion over the asset	1-43
The grant of security by a debtor over his own obligation: charge-backs and pledge-backs	1-44
Security in a fund of assets	1-45
The Forms of Consensual Security
The four consensual security devices	1-46
Pledge
Nature of pledge	1-47
Assets susceptible to pledge	1-48
Contractual lien	1-53
Mortgage	1-54
Charge	1-55

The Permissible Objects of Security	1-59
Accretions to the Security	1-60
Derivative Security Interests	1-61
Security in derivative assets
Security in an asset and its product	1-62
Security in an asset and in its proceeds	1-63
Sub-security	1-74
The Scope of Secured Obligations	1-75
The Negative Pledge	1-76
Common forms of negative pledge
Domestic transactions	1-77
International transactions	1-78
Juridical nature of the negative pledge
Covenant not to encumber	1-79
Provision for matching security	1-80
Provision for automatic attachment to same asset	1-81
Provision entitling the first creditor to call for equal and rateable security	1-82
Enforcement of the negative pledge by the unsecured creditor	1-83
The Subordination Agreement	1-84
Subordination of security	1-85
Subordination of unsecured debt	1-86
Sale of Participation in Loan Assets	1-87

Considerations	2-01
Principles of Attachment
The concept of attachment	2-02
The ingredients of attachment	2-03
Agreement for security conforming to statutory formalities	2-04
Identifiability of the subject matter	2-05
Debtor's interest or power to dispose	2-07
Subsistence of current obligation	2-08
Fulfilment of contractual conditions for attachment	2-09
In the case of pledge or contractual lien, delivery of possession	2-10
The security agreement	2-11
Security over future property	2-12
As from what time does a security interest in future property attach?	2-13
Equitable security distinguished from mere contract	2-15
Nature of perfection	2-16
Registration of security interests created by companies	2-18
Security interests which are not required to be registered	2-19
Possession by the security interest holder	2-20
Perfection by registration	2-21
Registration under section 859A of the Companies Act 2006
Registrable charges	2-22
Registration is a perfection requirement	2-23
The new registration scheme	2-24
Registration as notice	2-25
Of what facts does registration constitute notice?
Pre-2013 regime	2-26
The New Regime	2-29
To whom is registration notice?	2-31
The Specialist Registers	2-32
Proposals for Reform	2-33
3. Attachment, Perfection and Effects of Fixed Security in Non-Documentary Receivables
Introduction	3-01
Characterisation and Forms of Security
Mortgage by assignment and mortgage by novation	3-03
Security distinguished from purchase	3-04
Sale with recourse	3-05
Outright transfer of debt with creditor's personal obligation to repay excess of proceeds over amount of debt	3-06
Non-recourse loan	3-07

5. Fixed and Floating Charges: Some Problems of Priority
Introduction	5-01
Principles of Priority at Common Law	5-03
Rule 1: nemo dat quod non habet	5-04
Common law exceptions to the nemo dat rule
Actual or apparent (ostensible) authority	5-05
Apparent ownership	5-06
Postponement of equitable interest to subsequent legal interest	5-07
Successive assignments of choses in action	5-08
Rule 2: a legal interest acquired for value and without notice overrides prior equitable interest	5-09
Rule 3: a mortgagee may in certain conditions tack further advances for which he will rank in priority to a subsequent mortgagee	5-10
Rule 4: priority rules may be varied by agreement	5-11
The Impact of Legislation	5-12
Statutory exceptions to the nemo dat rule	5-13
The effect of registration provisions on priority rules	5-14

Mortgages of registered land	5-20
Mortgages of personalty	5-21
Registration under the Companies Act 2006	5-22
The restrictions on tacking considered	5-23
Priority of Competing Security Interests	5-24
First rule: where there are no additional perfection requirements, priority is determined by the order of creation, subject to any applicable exceptions to the nemo dat rule	5-25
Second rule: first unregistered charge is void against a second charge whether registered or not	5-26
Third rule: a perfected security interest normally has priority over an unperfected security interest	5-28
Fourth rule: in some circumstances, the giving of public notice is a priority point	5-29
Priority notice	5-31
Pre-completion search	5-32
Fifth rule: priorities may be varied by agreement	5-33
Marshalling of securities	5-34
Effect of priorities on enforcement by a secured creditor	5-35
Competition Between a Fixed Consensual Security Interest and Other Types of Interest
Secured creditor versus outright buyer	5-36
Secured creditor versus holder of non-consensual right or interest	5-37

Ranking of the Floating Charge	5-38
As against interests arising prior to crystallisation	5-39
Buyer or incumbrancer in ordinary course of business	5-40
Buyer or incumbrancer outside ordinary course of business	5-42
Later floating charge	5-43
Execution creditor	5-44
Landlord or local authority levying distress	5-48
Debtor asserting right of set-off	5-49
As against interests arising subsequent to crystallisation	5-50
