

Contents

Preface to the Second Edition	vii
Preface: My Story with RF (Islamic) Banking and Finance in America	xiii
Acknowledgments	xxix
About the Book Cover	xxxvii
CHAPTER 1
Introduction	1
CHAPTER 2
The Faith-Based Judeo-Christian-Islamic Foundation of the Prohibition of Interest and the RF (Riba-Free) Banking System	15
CHAPTER 3
The RF Valuation Disciplines of Commodity Indexation and Marking to the Market	55
CHAPTER 4
The Law: The Judeo-Christian-Islamic Shari'aa	75
CHAPTER 5
Money and Its Creation: The U.S. Federal Reserve System (Central Banks) and Interest Rates	101
CHAPTER 6
Towards an RF Monetary Discipline: The RF Commodity Indexation Discipline	137
CHAPTER 7
Civility and Social Responsibility of the RF Banking System	179

CHAPTER 8
The Conventional Riba-Based Banking System	207
CHAPTER 9
Comparing RF Banking and Conventional Riba-Based Banking: What Is the Difference?	247
CHAPTER 10
RF (Islamic) Banking in the Twentieth Century	261
CHAPTER 11
RF Banking Model for the Twenty-First Century: The LARIBA RF Model	285
CHAPTER 12
Putting the RF Finance Movement and Discipline Together	345
CHAPTER 13
Starting an RF Bank in the United States	361
CHAPTER 14
RF Capital Markets	399
CHAPTER 15
Case Studies	431
CHAPTER 16
RF Credits (Loans) in Contrast to Types of Riba-Based Loans	449
CHAPTER 17
The RF Approach to Handling Troubled and Nonperforming Credits (Loans)	463
CHAPTER 18
Visions for the Future of RF Banking	471
CHAPTER 19
RF Banking: A New Banking Brand for the Twenty-First Century	483
About the Companion Website	487
Index	489