

Contents

Table of Statutes	XXI
Table of Statutory Instruments	XXIII
Table of European Legislation	XXV
Table of Cases	XXVII

Part I – General Principles

1. Introduction	3
Introduction	3
Recharacterisation in other contexts	4
The importance of the true sale and related recharacterisation analysis in commercial transactions	4
Other legal systems	7
US law	7
Target audience	7
Approach of this work	8
Retail and consumer protection law	8
2. Summary of true sales rules	9
3. Legal concepts relevant to true sales and recharacterisation	13
Sources of law	13
Applicable law	14
Insolvency law	14
‘Recharacterisation’	15
‘Substance over form’	15
True sale v non sale	15
Recharacterisation v transactions set aside	16

How to transfer title depends on the nature of the asset	16
Title is a relative concept	16
Change of contractual obligations by operation of law	17
Rectification of contracts	17
Taxation	17
Alternative methods of performance	17
4. Meaning of a true sale	19
Definition of true sale	19
'True sale' in arrangements that are not quite 'sales'	19
Standard & Poor's definition of 'True Sale'	22
BAFT definition of 'True Sale'	23
Examples of relevant transactions	24
5. Does the character of the transaction matter?	27
Different objectives of the parties	27
Recharacterisation might make no difference	29
The requirement to register security	30
Problems created by floating charges	31
It allows finance to be raised on assets where the counterparty retains control of the assets	31
Indebtedness may be restricted in other financings, while outright sales might not	31
Security may be prohibited by restrictions in other financings, while outright sales might not	32
Existing security might take priority over the assets being financed	32
Lending may be unlawful in the relevant location while purchases of assets may be lawful	32
The counterparty may seek off-balance sheet treatment for the transaction	32
The financier may receive preferential capital treatment for the transaction	32
Enforcement may be easier	32
It may avoid a moratorium on security enforcement	33
It can be put in place quickly and conveniently	33
Rating agencies	33
Tax	33

6. English law relating to true sales and their recharacterisation	35
Introduction	35
The early years — McEntire v Crossley Brothers and Re George Inglefield	37
Chow Yoong Hong v Choong Fah Rubber Manufactory (1962)	40
Lloyds & Scottish Finance v Cyril Lord (1979)	40
Domestic tenants get in on the act — Street v Mountford (1985)	41
The leading case — Welsh Development Agency v Export Finance Co Ltd (1992)	42
Cimex Tissues (1994)	51
Orion Finance v Crown Financial Management (1996)	52
The Cosslett case (2001)	53
Hallmark Cards v Yun Choy Limited (2012)	54
Contrast with the US approach	55
A different strand of case law — fixed and floating charges	55
Are the fixed and floating charges consistent with WDA v Exfinco and the other cases described in this Chapter?	56
The end of true sales history?	56
Broader conclusions from the decisions	58
7. Fixed and floating charges	59
Introduction	59
The development of case law	59
Re New Bullas Trading	61
Brumark and Spectrum	61
Are Brumark and Spectrum consistent with WDA v Exfinco ?	63
The behaviour of the parties	63
8. 'Substance over form'	65
9. Cross-border transactions	67
Relevant systems of law	67
Specific transactions	67
Conflict of laws rules	67
Which law governs characterisation?	68
The approach in practice	68
The law of the contract that purports to effect a true sale	69

The law of the asset itself	70
The law of the assignor	71
Re Weldtech	71
The law of the forum	73
More than one law may be relevant	73
10. The operation of the agreement and subsequent behaviour of the parties	75
Operational changes	75
Importance of operation consistent with the documents	77
11. Policy factors	79
12. The meaning of a sham	83
13. The effect of pricing by reference to financing returns	85
14. Back-up security	87
The US approach	87
The lady doth protest too much	88
15. Law reform – past and present	89
The Company Law Review Steering Group	89
The Law Commission's proposals	90
The Secured Transactions Code	94
16. Unwinding of transactions, in particular on insolvency	95
Transactions at an undervalue	96
Preferences	96
Transactions defrauding creditors	96
Disclaimer of onerous contracts	97
Application to true sales transactions	97
The Banking Act 2009 (Restriction of Transfers) Order 2009	97
17. Regulatory and accounting matters and potential liability for wrongful accounting	99
Accounting treatment	99
The requirements of credit rating agencies	101
Liability for misaccounting	101
Applicable law	102
The bankruptcy of Enron	102
Regulatory treatment	103

18. Taxation	105
Ramsay v Revenue and Customs Comrs	106
Furniss v Dawson	106
Part II – Specific Transactions
19. Receivables purchase transactions	111
Summary of the transaction	111
Application to financing transactions generally	111
Parties and terminology	111
How is a receivables purchase transaction effected at law?	112
Assignment as opposed to novation	112
Equitable assignments	113
Priority of assignments	113
Purpose of the transaction	113
Economics of the transaction	115
Distressed receivables	115
Insured receivables	116
Structure of the transaction	116
Detailed structure and diagram	116
Form of documentation	117
What is the recharacterisation argument?	117
Does the character of the transaction matter?	117
Analysis of the potential recharacterisation of a receivables purchase transaction under English law	118
Post transaction dealings	119
Cross-border issues	119
Particular true sale issues in receivables purchase transactions	121
Notice of assignment	122
Prohibitions on assignment	123
Variations on the structure – a rock and a hard place	128
Assignor as servicer/agent	129
The structure of the receipts account	129
Purchase of part only of a debt	134

Receivables purchases on electronic platforms	135
Law reform – banning prohibitions on assignment	135
20. Securitisation	137
Summary of the transaction	137
Parties involved and terminology	138
How is a securitisation effected at law?	139
Purpose of the transaction	140
Economics of the transaction	142
Structure of the transaction	142
Detailed structure and diagram	142
Form of documentation	149
What is the insolvency clawback argument?	149
What is the recharacterisation argument?	149
Does the characterisation of the transaction matter?	150
Analysis of the potential recharacterisation of a securitisation into a secured financing under English law	150
Post-transaction dealings	151
Notice of assignment	151
Declarations of trust	152
Prohibitions on assignment	154
Cross-border issues	154
Particular true sale issues in securitisations	155
Originator retaining economic exposure	156
Originator continuing to service the portfolio of receivables	158
Account is in the name of the originator	158
21. Participation transactions	161
Summary of the transaction	161
Parties involved and terminology	161
How is a participation transaction effected at law?	161
Purpose of the transaction	162
Economics of the transaction	163
Documentation	163
Structure of the transaction	163
Detailed structure and diagram	164

Relevant systems of law	165
Contrast with US law approach	165
What is the recharacterisation argument?	165
Analysis of the potential recharacterisation of a participation arrangement under English law	166
Does the structure of the transaction matter?	166
22. Repurchase transactions involving goods	167
Summary of the transaction	167
Retention of title distinguished	167
Parties involved and terminology	168
How is a repurchase transaction effected at law?	168
Purpose of the transaction	169
Economics of the transaction	173
Structure of the transaction	173
Detailed structure and diagram	174
Form of documentation	175
What is the recharacterisation argument?	175
Does the characterisation of the transaction matter?	176
Analysis of the potential recharacterisation of a repurchase transaction into a financing under English law	178
Policy arguments	181
Post-transaction dealings	181
Cross-border issues	181
Potential variations to the structure	185
Issues of substance that commonly arise	188
23. Repurchase transactions involving securities	191
Summary of the transaction	191
Parties involved and terminology	191
How is a repurchase transaction effected at law?	191
Purpose of the transaction	192
Economics of the transaction	197
Structure of the transaction	197
Detailed structure and diagram	198
Form of documentation	202

What is the insolvency clawback argument?	203
What is the recharacterisation argument?	203
Does the characterisation of the transaction matter?	204
Analysis of the potential recharacterisation of a repurchase transaction into a secured loan under English law	205
Post-transaction dealings	207
Variations to the structure	207
Drawing together all of the variations	210
Cross-border issues	211
24. Securities lending transactions	215
Summary of the transaction	215
Parties involved and terminology	215
How is a securities lending transaction effected at law?	216
Purpose of the transaction	216
Economics of the transaction	221
Structure of the transaction	222
Detailed structure and diagram	222
Form of documentation	225
What is the insolvency clawback argument?	226
What is the recharacterisation argument?	226
Does the characterisation of the transaction matter?	227
Analysis of the potential recharacterisation of a securities lending transaction into a security interest under English law	228
Post-transaction dealings	230
Variations to the structure	230
Drawing together all of the variations	233
Cross-border issues	234
25. 1995 ISDA Credit Support Annex (Bilateral Form – Transfer)	235
Summary of the arrangement	235
Parties involved and terminology	236
How is an English CSA effected at law?	236
Purpose of the arrangement	236
Economics of the transaction	240
Structure of the arrangement	240

Detailed structure and diagram	240
What is the insolvency clawback argument?	243
What is the recharacterisation argument?	244
Does the characterisation of the transaction matter?	244
Analysis of the potential recharacterisation of an English CSA into a security interest under English law	244
Post-transaction dealings	246
Cross-border issues	246
26. Leasing transactions	247
Summary of the transaction	247
Parties and terminology	247
Specific assets with their own legal regimes	247
How is a leasing transaction effected at law?	248
Purpose of the transaction	248
Economics and structure of the transaction – finance leases and operating leases	250
Detailed structure and diagram	250
Form of documentation	251
What is the recharacterisation argument?	252
Does the character of the transaction matter?	252
Analysis of the potential recharacterisation of a lease transaction under English law	252
Post-transaction dealings	253
Cross-border issues	253
Particular true sale issues in leasing transactions	254
Precious metals	254
Index	257