

Contents

Acknowledgements .....	v
Table of Abbreviations .....	xiii
Table of Cases .....	xv
Table of Legislation .....	xix

1. TAIWAN'S CONSTITUTION IN WORLD CONSTITUTIONALISM: COMMON AND SALIENT FEATURES .....	1
I. Driving Forces of Profound Transformation: Indigenisation, Democratisation and Globalisation.....	3
II. Common Features in Constitutional Perspective .....	7
A. Constitutional Democracy.....	8
B. Fundamental Rights and Freedoms .....	9
C. Separation of Powers and Accountability.....	10
D. Rule of Law and the Independence of the Courts.....	11
III. Salient Features in Transitional Perspective.....	12
A. Incremental Constitutional Revisions .....	12
B. The Constitutional Court and Dialectical Judicial Review.....	13
C. Quasi-Constitutional Statutes.....	15
IV. Salient Features in Transnational Perspective.....	16
A. Incorporation of International Human Rights Treaties .....	16
B. Transnational Judicial Dialogues.....	17
C. Global Convergence of Institutions .....	18
V. Aims and Structure of this Book.....	19
Further Reading .....	21
2. TAIWAN'S CONSTITUTIONAL JOURNEY: IMPOSITION AND INDIGENISATION .....	23
I. A Tale of Two Foundations: Externally Imposed Constitutions.....	24
A. Japanese Colonisation, the Meiji Constitution, and the Hybrid Constitutional Foundation.....	25

B.	Regime Relocation, the ROC Constitution and Taiwan's Incorporation .....	28
II.	Pre-democratisation Constitutional Manipulation and Authoritarianism .....	30
A.	Temporary Provisions and Authoritarian Leadership .....	31
B.	Old Thieves and the Manipulation of Representation .....	32
C.	Martial Law and Constitutional Authoritarianism.....	34
III.	Democratisation and Constitutional Indigenisation .....	36
A.	Democratic Mobilisation and Negotiated Change .....	37
B.	The Reconstruction of Representation and Incremental Constitutional Reform.....	38
i.	Reinforcing Internal Representation: Down with the 'Old Thieves' and Extending Full Suffrage to Taiwan's Residents .....	39
ii.	Reinforcing External Representation: The Embarrassing Status of the Taiwan Provincial Government .....	42
iii.	Reinforcing Representation as to Constitutional Sovereignty: The Fate of the National Assembly and the Public Referendum.....	44
IV.	Conclusion .....	48
	Further Reading .....	49
3.	THE EVOLVING PRESIDENCY AND THE EXECUTIVE.....	51
I.	The Evolution of the Five-power Government Scheme.....	52
A.	The Development of the Five-power Government Scheme .....	52
B.	The Road to Semi-Presidentialism .....	57
II.	The Evolving Presidency.....	59
A.	The Changing Role and Extensive Powers of the President.....	60

B.	National Security Council and Cross-Strait Policy .....	63
C.	Presidential Elections, Powers and Political Divisions.....	65
III.	The Executive Yuan: The Premier and Executive Oversight .....	68
A.	The Premier, Cabinet Meetings and Policy Co-ordination.....	69
B.	Ministries and Agencies .....	71
i.	The 14 Ministries.....	74
ii.	The Eight Co-ordinative Councils.....	75
iii.	The Designated Independent Commissions.....	75
C.	Independent Regulatory Commissions.....	75
IV.	Government Reform.....	80
A.	Government Streamlining .....	81
B.	The Public–Private Partnership.....	83
C.	The Examination Yuan and the Civil Service .....	87
V.	Conclusion .....	89
	Further Reading .....	90
4.	REPRESENTATION AND LEGISLATIVE PROCESS .....	91
I.	The Transformation of Representative Institutions: From Three Parliaments to One.....	94
A.	From Three Parliaments to Two: The Transformation of the Control Yuan.....	94
B.	From Two Parliaments to One: The Abolition of the National Assembly .....	97
II.	The Electoral System and Political Parties.....	100
A.	Changes to Legislative Seats and Electoral Rules.....	100
B.	Election Institutions and Neutrality.....	107
C.	Political Parties and Accountability Problems.....	109
III.	Legislative Functions and Constitutional Control .....	114
A.	Legislative Autonomy and Limitations .....	114

B.	Financial Control.....	117
C.	Shared Powers and Conflict Resolution.....	120
IV.	The Control Yuan after Transformation.....	123
V.	Conclusion.....	126
	Further Reading.....	127
5.	MULTI-LEVEL GOVERNANCE AND DEVOLUTION .....	129
I.	Central–local Relations in the ROC Constitution.....	131
A.	Elections and Accountability.....	131
B.	Pre-emption and Regulatory Supremacy.....	133
C.	Budgetary Control and Devolution.....	134
II.	Taiwan as a State versus Taiwan as a Province .....	135
A.	Constitutional Amendment and Legislative Action.....	137
B.	The Rise and Fall of the Taiwan Provincial Government.....	140
C.	Taipei and the Special Municipalities in Transitional Politics .....	142
D.	The Rise of Mega Metropolitans and the Changing Geopolitical Landscape.....	146
III.	Beyond Borderlines: Central–local Relations in Regional and Global Perspectives.....	148
A.	Micro Central–local Relations: Taiwan and Her Offshore Islands .....	148
B.	Taiwan in Multi-level Governance .....	150
IV.	Conclusion.....	152
	Further Reading .....	153
6.	JUDICIAL REVIEW AND THE FUNCTION OF THE CONSTITUTIONAL COURT .....	155
I.	Changing Institutions and Processes: From the Council to the Court.....	157
A.	Organisational Evolution.....	157
B.	Appointment Process.....	160
C.	Powers and Jurisdictions .....	162
D.	Adjudication Procedure .....	165
II.	Functional Transformations: From Rubber Stamp to Constitutional Guardianship.....	167
A.	Overall Performance.....	168

B.	Changing Functions in Response to Changing Contexts.....	171
III.	Judicial Strategy and Style of Judgment.....	174
A.	Pro-dialogue Approach.....	175
B.	The Variety of Constitutional Declarations versus the Politics of Unconstitutionality.....	178
C.	The Principle of Proportionality.....	184
D.	Judicial Reference to Foreign Law and the Incorporation of International Law.....	186
E.	A United Court versus a Divided Society.....	189
IV.	Conclusion.....	191
	Further Reading.....	192
7.	RIGHTS AND FREEDOMS.....	193
I.	Rights Discourse in a Transformative Society.....	194
A.	Rights Discourse in the Wake of an Emergent Civil Society.....	195
B.	Rights Discourse in the Wake of Constitutional Reform.....	197
C.	Rights Discourse and Incorporation by the Judiciary.....	202
II.	Civil and Political Rights.....	205
A.	Right of Political Participation.....	205
B.	Free Speech and Social/Political Transition.....	208
III.	Socio-economic Rights.....	214
A.	Health Insurance and the Right to Work.....	214
B.	Gender Equality and the Changing Family Structure.....	218
C.	Waves of Immigrants and Equality.....	222
IV.	Indigenous Peoples and Collective Rights.....	224
A.	Historical Discrimination.....	224
B.	The Indigenous Movement.....	227
C.	Gradual Progress and the Implementation of Indigenous Rights.....	229
V.	The Incorporation of International Human Rights.....	232
A.	International Human Rights and Institutional Capacity-building.....	233
B.	The Death Penalty Debate as Example.....	236

VI. Conclusion .....	238
Further Reading .....	240
8. CONCLUSION: CHALLENGES AND PROSPECTS.....	241
I. Constitutional Footprints: What Taiwan Has Achieved.....	242
A. Transformative Constitutionalism .....	243
B. Civic Constitutionalism .....	244
II. Facing the Future.....	246
A. The Infeasibility of Constitutional Change .....	246
B. A Stalemate-prone System of Government .....	247
C. A Fragile Constitutional Sovereignty .....	250
III. Conclusion .....	253
Further Reading .....	253
Index .....	255

<http://www.pbookshop.com>