

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Chapter		Paragraph
	Introduction	.01-.11
	Background02-.05
	Scope06-.09
	Information Included in This Guide10
	Guide to the Guide11
1	Overview of the Private Equity and Venture Capital Industry and Its Investment Strategies	.01-.81
	Introduction01-.13
	Investment Strategies and Portfolio Company Life Cycle14-.21
	Typical Fund Structures and Role of Fund Manager22-.27
	Fund Entity (Limited Partnership) — The Investment Company22-.24
	Compensation, Fund Management Fees, and Carried Interest25-.27
	Investor Base28-.38
	Defined Benefit Pension Plans30-.31
	Sovereign Wealth Funds32
	Development Finance Institutions33
	Endowment Funds34
	High-Net-Worth Individuals and Family Offices35-.37
	Funds of Funds38
	Investment Horizon and Return Considerations39-.45
	Long-Term Orientation39-.41
	Risk Tolerance42-.45
	Impact on Portfolio Company Valuations46-.57
	Planning for "Exits"46-.48
	Strategic Buyers49-.51
	Public Equity Markets and IPO52-.57
	Considerations for Early-Stage Portfolio Companies58-.73
	The Portfolio Company's Strategy and Positioning66
	Market Opportunity67
	Product Adoption and Customer Behavior68
	Competitive Landscape and Presence of a First-to-Market Advantage69
	Regulatory Approval and Other Gating Factors to Market Access70
	Use of Subject Matter Experts and Advisers71
	Executive Management and Their Track Records72
	Macro Investment Environment for the Particular Early-Stage Portfolio Company73
	Regulatory Environment74-.77
	U.S. Securities and Other Regulation75-.77

Chapter		Paragraph
1	Overview of the Private Equity and Venture Capital Industry and Its Investment Strategies — continued
	Business Development Companies and Small Business
	Investment Companies78-.81
	Business Development Companies78
	Small Business Investment Companies79-.81
2	Fair Value and Related Concepts	.01-.45
	Definitions of Value01-.06
	Why Do Financial Reporting Standards Require Fair Value?07
	Fair Value Concepts — FASB ASC 82008-.30
	Fair Value and Exit Price08-.10
	Entry or Transaction Price11
	Transaction Costs12
	Unit of Account13
	Measurement Date14
	Principal (or Most Advantageous) Market15-.20
	Active Market21-.24
	The Fair Value Hierarchy25-.27
	Market Participants28-.30
	Fair Value Concepts — SEC Matters31-.37
	Securities Valued "in Good Faith"34-.37
	Other Relevant Nonauthoritative Guidance38-.45
	AICPA Accounting and Valuation Guide Valuation of Privately-Held Company Equity Securities Issued as Compensation38
	AICPA Technical Questions and Answers39-.41
	Other Industry Guidance42-.45
3	Market Participant Assumptions	.01-.24
	Introduction01-.03
	Market Participant Considerations04-.06
	Required Rate of Return07-.12
	Relevance of Observable Transactions in Developing Market Participant Assumptions13
	Consideration of Future Conditions14-.16
	Considering Whether Investors' Interests Are Aligned17-.22
	Types of Information Typically Considered23-.24
4	Determining the Unit of Account and the Assumed Transaction for Measuring the Fair Value of Investments	.01-.155
	Introduction01-.03
	Relevant Technical Guidance04-.12

Table of Contents

Chapter		Paragraph
4	Determining the Unit of Account and the Assumed Transaction for Measuring the Fair Value of Investments — continued
	Grouping Assets for Measuring Fair Value13-.16
	Time Horizon for the Investment17-.24
	Implications of the Initial Transaction for Determining the Grouping of Assets in the Assumed Exit Transaction25-30
	Examples31-.154
	Example 1: 100% of equity held within a single fund (single reporting entity)32-.56
	Example 2: 45% of equity held in each of two funds managed by the same GP57-.63
	Example 3: Club deal, 30% of equity held in each of three funds managed by different GPs64-.67
	Example 4: 100% of equity in a reporting entity with a significant deferred tax asset68-.73
	Example 5: Debt and 100% of equity held within a single fund (single reporting entity)74-.78
	Example 6: Debt and 100% of equity held within different funds79-100
	Example 7: Repurchased debt and 100% of equity in a single fund101-109
	Example 8: Debt investment with options or warrants110-135
	Example 9: Distressed equity investment with options or warrants136-146
	Example 10: Multiple investments in different classes of equity147-154
	Summary155
5	Overview of Valuation Approaches	.01-.109
	Market Approach06-09
	Considerations in Applying the Guideline Public Company Method10-45
	Identification of Guideline Public Companies11-17
	Number of Guideline Public Companies Selected for Comparison18
	How to Calculate Multiples and Which Multiples to Use19-31
	Adjustments to Guideline Public Company Multiples to Enhance Comparability32-33
	Adjustments to Subject Portfolio Company Financial Data34-35
	Elimination of Multiples That Are Not Meaningful36-37
	How to Select Multiples to Apply to the Subject Portfolio Company in the Guideline Public Company Method38-42
	Weighting of Multiple Type43-44
	Enterprise Versus Equity-Level Multiples45

Chapter		Paragraph
5	Overview of Valuation Approaches — continued
	Considerations in Applying the Guideline Company
	Transactions Method46-.55
	Limitations on Availability of Data47
	Assessing Relevant Time Period for Guideline Company
	Transactions48
	Number of Guideline Company Transactions Selected for Comparison49
	How to Select Multiples to Apply to the Subject Portfolio
	Company in the Guideline Company
	Transactions Method50-.51
	Transactions in the Portfolio Company's Instruments52-.55
	Income Approach56-.94
	Significant Assumptions of the Income Approach70-.90
	Income and Market Approach Summary91
	Milestone-Driven Valuations92-.94
	Asset Approach95-.109
	Significant Assumptions of the Asset Approach104-.109
6	Valuation of Debt Instruments	.01-.32
	Fair Value of Debt Instruments (When Debt Is the Unit of Account)05-.19
	Value of Debt for the Purpose of Valuing Equity20-.32
7	Valuation of Equity Interests in Simple Capital Structures	.01-.11
8	Valuation of Equity Interests in Complex Capital Structures	.01-.79
	Rights Associated With Preferred Stock09-.13
	Methods of Estimating the Fair Value of Multiple Classes of Equity14
	Overall Comments Applicable to All Four Methods for Valuing Equity Interests15-.17
	Considerations Affecting the Selection of a Method for
	Valuing Equity Interests in Complex Capital Structures18-.79
	Scenario-Based Methods20-.36
	The Option Pricing Method37-.53
	The Current Value Method54-.59
	Hybrid Methods60-.66
	Considerations in Selecting a Methodology for Valuing
	Equity Interests67-.79
9	Control and Marketability	.01-.34
	Controlling Versus Minority Interests04-.23
	Marketable Versus Nonmarketable Interests24-.32
	Assessing Discounts or Premiums Via Calibration33-.34

Table of Contents

xiii

Chapter		Paragraph
10	Calibration	.01-.47
	Introduction01-.04
	Valuation Implications of Observed Transactions05-.09
	Applying Calibration in Valuing a Debt Investment in a Business10-.12
	Applying Calibration in Valuing an Equity Investment in a Business13-.25
	Market Approach13-.18
	Income Approach19-.25
	Relevance of Calibration as Time Passes26-.27
	Implications of Calibration When Considering Theoretical Discounts or Premiums Associated With Control and Marketability28-.30
	Inferring Value From Transactions in a Portfolio Company's Instruments31-.43
	Consistency With Other Valuations Performed for the Portfolio Company44-.47
11	Backtesting	.01-.101
	Introduction01-.15
	Relationship Between Backtesting and Evaluating Subsequent Events Under FASB ASC 85516-.20
	Factors to Consider When Performing Backtesting21
	Illustrative Examples22-.101
	Example 1: Potential buyer's synergies unknown25-.33
	Example 2: Unidentified operational issues34-.43
	Example 3: Subsequent IPO and significant price increase44-.51
	Example 4: Subsequent rescue of a company in financial distress52-.58
	Example 5: Bridge loan followed by down-round financing59-.74
	Example 6: Material nonpublic information with publicly traded shares75-.79
	Example 7: Subsequent working capital adjustment and contract claims80-.85
	Example 8: Unidentified investor or market participant86-.92
	Example 9: Clinical trial results93-.101
12	Factors to Consider at or Near a Transaction Date	.01-.23
	Introduction01-.05
	Fair Value Considerations at Initial Recognition06-.10
	Fair Value Considerations at Interim Measurement Dates11-.13

Chapter		Paragraph
12	Factors to Consider at or Near a Transaction Date — continued
	Fair Value Considerations at or Near Exit14-15
	Illustrative Examples16-21
	Impact of Transaction Costs on Calibration22-23
13	Special Topics	.01-100
	Introduction01
	When an Enterprise Has Traded Securities02-24
	P × Q Rule03-07
	Underwriter Lock-Ups and SEC Rule 144A08-14
	Similar Versus Identical Securities15-19
	Significant Decrease in Volume or Activity or Distressed Transactions20-24
	Pricing Services and Broker and Dealer Quotes25-33
	Background25-28
	Management Responsibilities29-33
	Indicative Offers34-36
	Insider Financing Rounds37-38
	Early-Stage Companies With No Recent Financing Rounds39-43
	Rights and Privileges Not Enforced44-49
	Commitments to Portfolio Companies50-60
	Loan Commitments50-54
	Equity Commitments55-60
	Guarantees61-64
	Dilution65-76
	Anticipated Future Dilution66-72
	Changes to Anticipated Future Dilution73
	Impact of Share-Based Awards74
	Current Dilution75
	Summary76
	Options and Warrants, Convertible Notes, and Related Instruments77-82
	Contractual Rights (Contingent Consideration)83-87
	Private Fund Interests88-100
	NAV Practical Expedient88-95
	Alternatives to the NAV Practical Expedient96
	Secondary Transactions in an Interest in a Private Fund97-99
	Discounted Cash Flows100
14	Frequently Asked Questions	.01
	Introduction01
	Material Covered in the Guide
	Q&A 14.1: Material Covered in the Guide
	Q&A 14.2: Intended Use of the Guide

14	Frequently Asked Questions — continued
	Q&A 14.3: Managing Complexity of the Valuation Process
	Q&A 14.4: Getting Started
	Q&A 14.5: Impact of the Guide
	Q&A 14.6: Consistency With Other Guidance
	Q&A 14.7: Measurements at Net Asset Value
	Internal Controls Over Valuations
	Q&A 14.8: Internal Control Policies and Procedures for Valuations
	Q&A 14.9: Mandatory Performance Framework
	Q&A 14.10: Third-Party Opinions
	Q&A 14.11: Inherent Uncertainty of the Estimate
	Q&A 14.12: Conservatism in Fair Value Estimates
	Q&A 14.13: Bid/Ask Spread Considerations
	Value Changes Over Time
	Q&A 14.14: Frequency of Preparation of Fair Value Estimates
	Q&A 14.15: Carrying Value at Cost
	Q&A 14.16: Value Changes Over Time
	Q&A 14.17: Adjusting the Value of the Portfolio From Period to Period
	Q&A 14.18: Portfolio Company Financial Information Used in the Valuation Analysis
	Q&A 14.19: Shelf Life of Value-Related Information
	Reconciliation With Other Valuations
	Q&A 14.20: Reliance on IRC Section 409A or FASB ASC 718 Reports
	Q&A 14.21: Differences in Fair Value Estimates
	Q&A 14.22: Valuation Diligence on Club Deals Considering Risks and Outcomes Associated With Contractual Rights
	Q&A 14.23: Valuation of an Equity Interest With a Put Right
	Q&A 14.24: Valuation of Contingent Consideration
	Q&A 14.25: Valuation of an Interest in a Company That Has Filed for Bankruptcy
	Valuing Businesses for the Purpose of Valuing Investments
	Q&A 14.26: Earnings Normalization
	Q&A 14.27: Incorporating Stock-Based Compensation Into the Valuation
	Q&A 14.28: Treatment of Synergies
	Q&A 14.29: Considering Multiple Lines of Business Within a Single Portfolio Company
	Q&A 14.30: Using Data From Guideline Public Companies When the Portfolio Company Is Not Really Comparable

Chapter		Paragraph
14	Frequently Asked Questions — continued
	Q&A 14.31: Alternatives to Using Guideline Public Companies When the Portfolio Company Is Not Really Comparable
	Q&A 14.32: Addressing the Lag in Available Financial Information for the Guideline Public Companies as of the Measurement Date
	Q&A 14.33: Incorporating Discounts or Premiums Into the Enterprise Value
	Q&A 14.34: Private Equity Cost of Capital
	Q&A 14.35: Company-Specific Assumptions
	Calibration
	Q&A 14.36: Holding Value at Cost
	Q&A 14.37: Insider Financing Rounds
	Q&A 14.38: Tranched Financing
	Q&A 14.39: Considering Transaction Costs in Calibration
	Q&A 14.40: Calibrating to a Transaction With Assumed Debt
	Q&A 14.41: Calibrating to a Transaction With a Contingent Tax Liability
	Q&A 14.42: Offers to Purchase
	Q&A 14.43: Repayment of Debt Investments
	Q&A 14.44: Calibration to Broker Transactions in Public Company Securities
	Q&A 14.45: Calibration for Real Estate Investments
	Value of Debt for the Purpose of Valuing Equity
	Q&A 14.46: Valuing Debt for the Purpose of Valuing Equity Using the Book Value or Face Value
	Q&A 14.47: Valuing Debt for the Purpose of Valuing Equity Using the Traded Price
	Q&A 14.48: Using the Zero-Coupon Bond Equivalent for Including Debt in the Option Pricing Method
	Q&A 14.49: Impact of Estimating Equity Value Using a Value of Debt Lower Than Face Value When Both the Enterprise Value and the Value of Debt Have Declined
	Q&A 14.50: Impact of Estimating Equity Value Using the Value of Debt for the Purpose of Valuing Equity When the Enterprise Value Has Remained Unchanged
	Q&A 14.51: Methodologies for Valuing Equity in a Business With Nonperforming Distressed Debt
	Valuing Equity Interests in Complex Capital Structures
	Q&A 14.52: Use of the PWERM
	Q&A 14.53: Use of the Current Value Method
	Q&A 14.54: Use of the Option Pricing Method
	Q&A 14.55: Different Values for Earlier and Later Round Investments
	Q&A 14.56: Value of Liquidation Preferences

14	Frequently Asked Questions — continued
	Q&A 14.57: Treatment of Equity Interests With Different Liquidation Preferences
	Q&A 14.58: Allocation Methods When Using Postmoney Value
	Q&A 14.59: Using the OPM as the Fund's Standard Approach for All Portfolio Companies
	Q&A 14.60: Two Funds Under the Same Investment Company Manager Hold Different Classes of Equity
	Q&A 14.61: Measuring Volatility for Early-Stage Companies
	Control and Marketability
	Q&A 14.62: Basis of Value — Control Considerations When Measuring Enterprise Value
	Q&A 14.63: Valuation Approaches and Controlling and Noncontrolling Interests
	Q&A 14.64: Applying Discounts for Lack of Marketability to the Total Equity Value
	Q&A 14.65: Illiquidity and Marketability of Investments
	Q&A 14.66: Basis of Valuation
	Q&A 14.67: Differences in the Basis of Valuation for Controlling Versus Minority Positions
	Q&A 14.68: Valuations With Multiple Related Fund Investors
	Information to Be Considered in the Valuation
	Q&A 14.69: Incomplete Information
	Q&A 14.70: Use of Nonpublic ("Inside") Information
	Q&A 14.71: Incorporating Nonpublic Information Into the Valuation
	Q&A 14.72: Postvaluation Event (Customer Financial Condition) — Assessment as Known or Knowable
	Q&A 14.73: Postvaluation Event (Product Approval) — Assessment as Known or Knowable
	Q&A 14.74: Expected Financing — Effect on Valuation
	Q&A 14.75: Measuring Fair Value When the Volume or Level of Activity for an Asset or a Liability With Observable Prices or Quotes Has Significantly Decreased — Applicability of Guidance
	Q&A 14.76: Measuring Fair Value When the Volume or Level of Activity for an Asset or a Liability With Observable Prices or Quotes Has Significantly Decreased — Objective of a Fair Value Measurement
	Q&A 14.77: Measuring Fair Value When the Volume or Level of Activity for an Asset or a Liability With Observable Prices or Quotes Has Significantly Decreased — Rules of Thumb or Quantitative Thresholds
	Remeasurements Relating to Changes in Portfolio Company Financials

Chapter		Paragraph
14	Frequently Asked Questions — continued
	Q&A 14.78: Remeasurements Relating to Restatements of the Portfolio Company's Financial Statements
	Q&A 14.79: Remeasurements Relating to Accounting Changes
Appendix
A	Valuation Process and Documentation Considerations
B	Valuation Reference Guide
C	Valuation Case Studies
Glossary
Index of Pronouncements and Other Technical Guidance
Subject Index

<http://www.pbookshop.com>