

Statutory Interpretation Handbook

Table of Contents

Table of Cases	xiii
Table of Legislation	liii
Table of Other Sources.....	lxxx
Glossary of Chinese Words and Phrases.....	lxxxv
1 Introduction.....	3
1.1 Statutes in Hong Kong.....	3
1.2 Roles of legislature and court	3
1.3 Legislative intent	4
1.4 Sources of rules of interpretation	4
1.5 Common law rules and codification	5
1.6 Bilingual legal system	6
1.7 Process of statutory interpretation	6
1.8 Attitude of court	7
1.9 Content of this handbook.....	9
2 Statutes in the Hong Kong Legal System	9
2.1 Introduction	9
2.2 Statutes of Hong Kong.....	10
2.3 Article 31 of the Constitution	10
2.4 The Basic Law	11
2.5 Ordinance	11
2.6 English acts.....	12
2.7 Meaning of ordinance.....	12
2.8 Enactment of ordinance	12
2.8.1 Types of bills.....	13
2.8.2 Passing of bill.....	13
2.8.3 Return of bill by the Chief Executive	13
2.8.4 Dissolution of the Legislative Council.....	14
2.8.5 Promulgation of ordinance.....	14
2.8.6 Report to the Standing Committee of the NPC.....	15
2.9 Repeal of ordinance	15
2.10 Invalidation of ordinance.....	15
2.11 Publication of ordinance.....	16
2.12 Language of ordinance	16

2.13	Content of ordinance	16
2.13.1	Short title.....	17
2.13.2	Long title.....	17
2.13.3	Commencing date	18
2.13.4	Preamble	18
2.14	Subsidiary legislation	18
2.14.1	Empowering provision.....	19
2.14.2	Enacting process	19
2.15	2.15 Hierachy of HK statutes	20
3	Approaches to Interpretation.....	21
3.1	Introduction	21
3.2	Literal rule	21
3.2.1	Natural meaning of words.....	22
3.2.2	Underlying presumption	22
3.2.3	Flexible application.....	22
3.3	The golden rule.....	24
3.3.1	Presumption against absurdity	24
3.3.2	Extent of modification.....	24
3.3.3	Situations where the rule is inapplicable	25
3.3.4	Use of the rule in practice	25
3.4	The mischief rule.....	25
3.4.1	Relaxation of traditional restriction	26
3.4.2	Use of the rule in practice	26
3.4.3	Giving effect to legislative intent	27
3.5	Section 19 of the Interpretation and General Clauses Ordinance	27
3.5.1	Applicability	27
3.5.2	“Fair, large and liberal interpretation”	27
3.5.3	Social consideration irrelevant.....	28
3.5.4	Application to anti-discrimination law	28
3.5.5	Wide interpretation often required.....	29
3.5.5.1	Industrial safety legislation	29
3.5.5.2	Professional conducts of lawyers.....	30
3.5.6	Interaction with presumption to interpret penal legislation strictly.....	30
3.5.7	Setting limit to interpretation.....	31
3.5.8	Criticism of the provision	31
3.6	Purposive approach.....	32
3.6.1	Compared with the mischief rule.....	33
3.6.2	Basic principle	33

3.6.3	Relevance of consequences of interpretation.....	35
3.6.4	Conflict with certainty of law.....	36
3.6.5	Displacement of literal meaning.....	36
3.6.6	Individual liberty against public interest.....	37
3.6.7	Constitutional provisions which define the class and status of a person in Hong Kong.....	37
3.6.8	Statute to be read as a whole.....	38
3.6.9	Insertion of words.....	38
3.6.9.1	Conditions for insertion.....	38
3.6.9.2	Insertion not to be made lightly.....	39
3.6.10	Exclusion of words.....	40
3.6.10.1	Avoiding result contrary to legislative intent.....	40
3.6.11	Changing meaning of words.....	41
3.6.11.1	Historical approach.....	41
3.6.11.2	Ambulatory approach.....	42
3.6.11.2.1	Technological advancement... ..	42
3.6.11.2.2	The ‘always speaking’ approach in practice.....	43
3.6.11.3	Limitation.....	44
4	Presumptions.....	45
4.1	Introduction.....	45
4.2	Presumption of constitutional validity.....	46
4.3	Presumption against absurdity.....	46
4.4	Presumption against unfairness.....	47
4.5	Presumption relating to double jeopardy.....	48
4.6	Presumption against double taxation or recovery.....	49
4.7	Presumption against penalty.....	49
4.8	Presumption against absolute liability.....	50
4.8.1	Strict liability and absolute liability.....	51
4.8.2	Common law presumption and alternatives.....	51
4.8.3	Test of absolute liability.....	52
4.8.3.1	Truly criminal.....	53
4.8.3.2	Social concern.....	53
4.8.3.3	Compliance with the law.....	54
4.8.3.4	Statutory provision.....	54
4.8.3.5	Necessary implication.....	54
4.8.4	Defence of honest and reasonable mistake.....	55
4.8.4.1	Burden of proof.....	56
4.8.5	Legislative history.....	56

4.8.6	Transfer of onus of proof	56
4.9	Presumption against retrospectivity.....	57
4.9.1	Article 12(1) of the Bill of Rights.....	58
4.9.2	Section 23 of the Interpretation and General Clauses Ordinance	59
4.9.3	Common law offences	59
4.9.3.1	Retrospectivity and marital rape	60
4.9.4	Prospective overruling	60
4.9.4.1	Decisions in other jurisdictions.....	60
4.9.4.2	Local decision	61
4.10	Presumption against change of rights and duties.....	61
4.11	Presumption against change of jurisdiction of the court	62
4.12	Presumption against extra-territorial jurisdiction	63
5	Linguistic Canons	64
5.1	Introduction	64
5.2	Application to statutory interpretation.....	65
5.3	Canons to be discussed.....	65
5.4	Noscitur a sociis (a word is known by its associates).....	66
5.4.1	Common sense really	66
5.4.2	A local examples.....	67
5.4.3	Inapplicable in particular context.....	67
5.5	Ejusdem generic (of the same kind)	67
5.5.1	Exclusion of things not of same genus	68
5.5.2	Same genus	69
5.5.3	Wider and narrower terms.....	69
5.5.4	Ejusdem generic and legislative intent.....	70
5.5.5	Wide discretion of court not restricted.....	71
5.5.6	Exemption provision	71
5.6	Expressio unius (The mention of one thing excludes all others).....	71
5.6.1	Local examples	71
5.6.2	Use with caution	72
5.6.3	Situations in which the rule is inapplicable	72
6	Internal Aids.....	73
6.1	Introduction	73
6.2	Ordinance to be read as a whole.....	73
6.2.1	Wide meaning of context	74
6.2.2	Overall scheme of legislation.....	74
6.3	Other provisions in the statute	75

6.3.1	Words may have different meanings in different context.....	75
6.3.2	Sensible meaning	76
6.3.3	Statutory defence	76
6.4	Interpretation provisions.....	78
6.4.1	Reference to other statutes	79
6.4.2	'Mean' & 'include'	79
6.4.3	Departure from statutory definitions.....	79
6.5	Savings and provisos	80
6.5.1	Dependent on and influence over main provision.....	81
6.5.2	Comparison of provisos	81
6.6	Preamble and long title.....	83
6.6.1	Preamble	84
6.6.2	Long title.....	85
6.7	Short title, headings and marginal notes.....	86
6.7.1	Short title.....	86
6.7.2	Headings and marginal notes	87
6.8	Punctuation	88
7	Extrinsic Materials	89
7.1	Introduction	89
7.1.1	Conflict between legal certainty and giving effect to legislative intent	90
7.2	Dictionaries.....	91
7.3	Textbooks and academic literature	91
7.3.1	Judicial decisions to be preferred.....	93
7.4	The historical setting	93
7.4.1	English and local historical settings.....	94
7.4.2	Significant in constitutional context.....	95
7.4.3	Extent of application of statute	95
7.5	Legislative materials.....	95
7.5.1	Pepper v Hart	96
7.5.2	Subsequent cases and comments	96
7.5.3	Pepper v Hart in Hong Kong.....	98
7.5.4	Possible review of Pepper v Hart in the future	99
7.5.5	Explanatory Memorandum	100
7.6	Official reports and consultation papers	100
7.6.1	Purposive approach and Pepper v Hart	101
7.6.2	Draft bill attached to report.....	101
7.7	Other statutes	101
7.7.1	Statutes in pari materia	102

7.7.2	Consolidation statute.....	102
7.7.2.1	Statutory predecessors	103
7.7.2.2	Purposive approach to be applied	103
7.7.3	Judicial interpretation on previous statutes	103
7.7.4	Equivalent or similar legislation in other jurisdictions.....	104
7.8	International conventions, treaties and Travaux préparatoires	104
7.8.1	Broad and liberal construction	105
7.8.2	Non-adoption of pre-1997 provision	105
7.8.3	Convention not directly incorporated.....	106
7.8.4	Convention not fully implemented.....	106
7.8.5	Travaux préparatoires.....	107
7.8.6	Specified extrinsic documents.....	107
7.9	Previous law.....	108
7.10	Subsidiary legislation	109
8	Basic Law and Bill of Rights	110
8.1	Introduction	111
8.2	Mechanism for interpretation of the Basic Law	111
8.2.1	Standing Committee of the NPC.....	111
8.2.2	Courts of Hong Kong.....	111
8.3	Approach of interpretation	113
8.4	The International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and Bill of Rights	114
8.5	Scope of Application of the Basic Law and Bill of Rights....	116
8.6	Extent of constitutional protection	116
8.6.1	Right to confidential legal advice.....	117
8.6.2	Freedom of speech and expression	118
8.7	Certainty of law	119
8.8	Aids to interpretation.....	120
8.8.1	Joint Declaration	121
8.8.2	Joint Liaison Group agreement.....	121
8.8.3	Legislation and documents existing at the time the

Basic Law was promulgated	121
8.8.4 Interpretation in practice	122
8.9 Conclusion	124
Interpretation and General Clauses Ordinance (Cap 1)	127
Appendix.....	250
Administrative Appeals Rules (Cap 1A).....	250
Fees for Official Signatures and Miscellaneous Services Notice (Cap 1B)	252
Specification of Public Offices (Cap 1C).....	252
Deputy Director of Immigration (Powers and Duties) Notice (Cap 1D)	270

